

POSTAL HISTORY OF THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE The Dr. Esmer Collection (Part II)

Dr. Erkan Esmer was born in Iskenderun, Turkey to Dr. Raif and Mehçure Esmer in October of 1941. He and his brother Ozkan spent their childhood in Iskenderun and then attended boarding school at Tarsus American Secondary School at a very early age until he was 18. He then attended Robert College in Istanbul (now Bogazici University) where he earned a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering in 1962. He then travelled a long and storied trip on a ship across the Atlantic to attend graduate school at Virginia Tech where he earned an Master of Science in civil engineering a couple of years later.

Dr. Esmer returned only briefly to Turkey in 1965 and married his wife Suna and enjoyed a happy marriage for almost 50 years. He and Suna Esmer then immigrated back to the US together where they spent the rest of their life together. Dr. Esmer resumed his studies at Virginia Tech and earned his Doctor of Philosophy in 1969. He embarked on a brief academic career at the West Virginia Institute of Technology; however, he soon founded the engineering consulting firm Esmer & Associates and enjoyed a prosperous 43-year career as a consulting engineer and head of his company. Esmer & Associates' award-winning designs on environment reclamation as well as coal production and cleaning plants significantly improved the adverse impact coal corporations had on the environment in the states of West Virginia, Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Tennessee whilst also boosting the coal production capacity of these states.

With Suna, Dr. Esmer reared three sons, Ersan, Ertan, and Tolga. Following their father's example, they went on to earn advanced degrees and work as an inspector in the coal industry, a physician, and a professor. Dr. Esmer also was blessed with four grandchildren: Shan, Suna, Ethan, and Leyla.

Besides collecting Turkish and Ottoman stamps in a traditional way, it was Dr. Esmer's goal to put together a collection with important postal history items based on a study of postal rates and routes and a study of the efficiency of the mail delivery systems in these areas. He was also extremely interested in the effects that historical events had on those postal systems. In addition he was eager to show the different ways postal systems operated in different areas of the vast Ottoman world. All this he intensively documented in his exhibits which he showed all over the world with great success.

Dr. Erkan Esmer

Dr. Erkan Esmer's book 'The Ottoman Empire: a Study of Postal Rates, Routes, Delivery Times and Effects of Historical Events' published in 1996 covers all points of his interest in Ottoman postal history and history in general. Dr. Esmer's book includes rate schedules for all the periods from 1840 until 1921.

One section of his book praises the Turkish Postman who had to deal with not only Western and Eastern European languages but also Greek, Armenian, Ladino, Arabic, as well as the various Slavic languages of the empire. Another part of the publication deals with Talismanship on Ottoman covers. Through years of hard work, he even proved that the time of delivery of mail in the Ottoman Empire was as fast as in the Western part of the world, despite the bad reputation it had.

Dr. Esmer was a collector who proudly shared his knowledge with other collectors and never ceased to motivate fellow collectors to spread their knowledge by publishing it.

We are proud to present this second part of the Dr. Esmer collection and hope you will find plenty of items to enhance your collection.
